Join a Group of Accomplished, Highly Motivated Students

“Each IAEP class is small so that the teachers can pay attention to each student, and it is easy for the students to participate. We can talk to each other without hesitation, even if we do not know each other.”

HIDEKO OTA (Japan) is a Nihon University graduate who plans to attend a U.S. graduate program in counseling psychology.

“As a faculty member of a Chinese university, English proficiency is essential. IAEP instructors have provided the academic focus necessary to help me gain language that is authentic and critical for my life and career.”

DR. WEIKAI XIE (China) is deputy director of Shanghai Jiao Tong University’s E-Learning Lab; he plans to continue teaching in China.

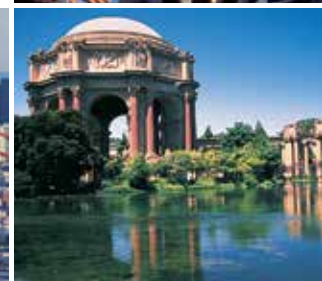

“Learning English through IAEP helps me both as a graduate student and as an international marketing professional. The intensive curriculum is personalized, helping me to reach a higher level of proficiency within a short amount of time.”

DINA GRIGOLAYA (Russia) is a marketing research professional who plans to pursue a second graduate degree, in sociology, at a U.S. university.

“I chose IAEP because it will help me grow as a person. I can have a multicultural experience, study English intensively and then apply that knowledge as a university student in my home country.”

How IAEP Works

IAEP offers courses year-round, and you may begin any month of the year. Start with a minimum commitment of three consecutive sessions (each session is four weeks long), and stay as long as you need to become proficient. On-site placement exams ensure you start in the instruction level appropriate for your needs. Expert classroom instruction then enables you to practice methods used in American universities, including:

- Analyzing and producing high-quality work in English
- Developing a sophisticated vocabulary and critical-thinking skills
- Improving your use of English in research projects, formal writing, oral presentations and seminar discussions

At the end of each four-week session, oral and written exams demonstrate your readiness to advance to the next instruction level. Experienced instructors and staff ensure that you achieve proficiency through supportive, individualized attention—at the pace that is right for you.

As a full-time IAEP student, you will attend classes for four hours each morning, Monday–Friday, focusing on the core study areas of speaking, listening, reading and writing. Afternoons are free for individual study, or you can take optional elective courses for an additional fee.

IAEP offers six levels of English language instruction, from intermediate to high advanced. Advancing to the next level of instruction earns you an Award of Completion. Upon completion of the highest level, you receive an Award of Proficiency. Both awards signify the successful completion of a high-caliber, in-depth sequence of courses.

Part-Time Program

You can attend IAEP on a part-time basis if you are in the United States primarily for tourism or business. Email academicenglish@unex.berkeley.edu for details.

Individualized Attention

IAEP offers highly qualified, caring instructors with professional teaching credentials, advanced degrees (master's and higher) and years of experience teaching English as a second language to students in a variety of settings. Our instructors have taught around the world and frequently speak multiple languages. They understand what it means to be a "language learner," and they can prepare you for diverse, challenging academic and professional environments with confidence, expertise and compassion.

In addition, IAEP's supportive staff members have extensive experience working with international students and teaching English learners. These dedicated professionals are available to assist with academic issues, as well as visa needs, health insurance, housing and more.

Admission Details

Once you are accepted for admission, you will receive an acceptance packet with important information about applying for your visa, paying your fees and enrolling in IAEP. Please be sure to read this information carefully and contact us if you have any questions. More information is available on the IAEP website at extension.berkeley.edu/academicenglish.

F-1 Visa Application Process

If you are not a U.S. citizen or permanent resident of the United States, you must obtain an F-1 visa to attend IAEP (full-time program only). Non-U.S. citizens entering the country with a visitor visa (B-1, B-2) or under the visa waiver program are not permitted to engage in full-time study.

Your acceptance packet includes the Certificate of Eligibility (I-20) from UC Berkeley Extension verifying that you have been admitted into a full-time course of study. To apply for an F-1 visa, take your acceptance documents, passport and most current financial statement to the nearest U.S. embassy or consulate.

Program Fee Payments

Payment is due 30 days before the first day of class. Payments must be made directly to UC Berkeley Extension in U.S. dollars. Four payment options are available:

1. Western Union Business Solutions. The preferred method of payment, the Western Union Business Solutions payment portal allows you to pay your account balance in the currency of your choice and provides a simple, secure way of initiating a payment electronically. Get detailed payment instructions at extension.berkeley.edu/academicenglish.

2. Bank wire transfers. Transfers must be in U.S. dollars and sent to:

Bank of America

1655 Grant St.

Concord, CA 94520 USA

Account number: 0175380001

Routing number: 0260-0959-3

Swift Code: BOFAUS3N

All wire fees charged by the bank are the sender's sole responsibility. You are not officially enrolled until International Student Administrative Services is able to successfully track and identify your wire transfer. You must email a copy of your wire confirmation receipt directly to academicenglish@unex.berkeley.edu. The wire tracking process may take 10–15 days. No wire transfers will be accepted once the term has commenced.

3. Credit cards. Payment by MasterCard, Visa, American Express or Diners Club is accepted.

4. Bank drafts. Drafts must be in U.S. dollars and payable to UC Regents. The draft must be drawn on an account held at a U.S. bank or a U.S. branch of an international bank.

If your cancellation is received in writing via mail, fax or email prior to the start of your session, you will receive a refund less a $100 cancellation fee. Given the special nature of IAEP, requests for refunds after the start of each four-week session will not be granted. If your F-1 visa application is denied after you have been accepted to IAEP, you will receive a full refund of your full-time program fee.

Housing Options

UC Berkeley Extension works with several area providers to help you locate housing, including private or shared apartments, dormitories, and homestays. View our full housing options at extension.berkeley.edu/international/housing. You may arrange housing before you arrive by submitting the Housing Interest Form (p. 15) to academicenglish@unex.berkeley.edu. We strongly suggest you apply early and arrange housing in advance of your arrival.

When to Arrive in San Francisco

To adjust to the local time, you should plan to arrive in San Francisco three to five days before the start of your session. If you have not already arranged housing, you should arrive seven days before the start of your session and visit the International Student Administrative Services office. The earliest you can arrive in the U.S. is 30 days before the start of your session.

Your attendance at orientation is mandatory. At the orientation, you will hear about program requirements, receive your class schedule and meet the academic staff and other program personnel. In addition, the International Student Administrative Services staff will provide details about our medical insurance policy, basic legal responsibilities, understanding your visa documents, traveling and other items to make your stay in the U.S. successful. Housing selection depends on your interests, preferences and budget. With options available in both San Francisco and Berkeley, you can choose from the bustling atmosphere of a dormitory, the independence of a private or shared apartment, or the personal attention of a homestay. For details about each of the options listed below, please visit extension.berkeley.edu/international/housing.

Housing Information

Private or Shared Apartments

Available in both San Francisco and Berkeley, apartments are recommended if you want more independence or prefer a quieter atmosphere for studying. Hotels and Short-Term Stays

Hotels and short-term housing are recommended if you are staying for a brief period of time or if you need accommodations while securing long-term housing.

Dormitories and Student Residences

Dormitories are recommended if you want a structured atmosphere with opportunities to meet new people through planned activities. Meals are sometimes provided, and your roommate may not be a UC Berkeley Extension international student. Several options for international students are available in San Francisco and Berkeley.

Homestays

A homestay is a private room in a local family home, and homestay opportunities are available in San Francisco, Berkeley and nearby areas. Features often include meal options, wireless Internet access, laundry, use of family areas and English spoken in homes. See the website for homestay placement services in San Francisco and Berkeley.

For assistance with housing, please complete the Housing Interest Form on p. 15 and include it with your enrollment application.
